EVENING UNIVERSITIES OF MARXISM-LENINISM

The Party operates also the so-called Evening Universities of Marxism-Leninism / WUML / in voivodship cities except Warsaw. The WUML have two departments: 1. Department of Economics and 2. Department of History and Philosophy. The students of the Department of Economics study the following subjects: political economics of capitalism and socialism, economics of industry and of industrial enterprises, the basis of economic and theoretical statistics, the basis of industrial accounting and the basis of the Marxist philosophy and sociology.

The students of the Department of History and Philosophy study the history of international worker movements since 1648, the history of the Polish worker movements since 1794, the history of philosophy and the Marxist philosophy and sociology.

Classes / lectures, seminars, consultations / are held once a week over the period of two years. Semester examinations take place in February and June. On the days when classes are held students are released earlier from their professional work. They also receive cut rate transportation tickets and 14 days vacation during the school year.

Every WORKING individual may apply for admission, both Party members and non-party individuals. Classes begin usually in September. The Party members must be recommended by their Basic Party Organizations while non-party individuals must be recommended by the departments of "cadres" of their place of work. The candidates must have secondary education completed. There are no entrance examinations and there is no formal age limit. Older candidates may be occasionally exempt from the secondary education condition.

Classes are usually held between 2 and 7 P.M. Instructors are recruited from local institutions of higher learning and in cities where there are not such institutions instructors are brought from other cities. The standing personnel, including director, deputy directors and secretaries are supplied by the Party organizations.

The number of students varies from city to city and figures are seldom released. The only figures released in the second part of 1961 are those by the Evening University of Marxism-Leninism in Opole. According to the release, 100 individuals graduated from the "university" in 1960. In 1961 there were 120 students attending the second year of the course and 180 students enrolled in September of 1961 which indicates an increase in number of students.
